

You will be rejoiced to learn that our Ladies Fair has been a very profitable one. The proceeds amount to about $350.00. —

I send you a late No of the Christian Spectator, which was left at the Office for you soon after you were here. — also a copy of Winslow's book. — The Annual Report of the Union ~~was~~ is not yet published — but I believe it is in press. If the printing goes on at the same rate as the proceedings of the Society, it will probably be out by next May. Whenever it is published I will send you a copy — also a copy of the Annual Report of the Female Anti Slavery Society — and any thing else that may be worth your perusal —

I am sorry to send you so brief and shabby a scrawl — but it is impossible for me to write coherently here.

Yours affectionately

Sam. J. May.

Dear Brother.

Your interesting letter, containing an account of your labors and trials of faith in Farmington, was received and has been read to many of the brethren. We rejoice in your steadfastness and in the success of your efforts. — About the same time tidings came to us of the rough usage of Charles Stewart and George Storrs. The case of the latter is in some respects the most alarming we have heard of. But all these things, I trust, will redound to the glory of God — and the furtherance of our righteous Cause.

How frequently our opposers are caught in their own devices! For years we have been trying to get the question of Slavery discussed in Congress — but our petitions have been quietly thrown in to "the family vault of all the Capulets." Not satisfied with this disposal of them — our opposers tried to stamp and spit upon them — and lo! a discussion in defence of the right of petition and incidentally upon the very subject, which they meant should not be so much as alluded to. — I am trying to write this in the office — and have been interrupted about a dozen times already —
